BIG SHIP IN FLAMES

PASSENGERS WERE IN PANIC

New York, Oct. 11.—The Austrian steamer Giulia, which arrived Thursday morning from Trieste with 763 passengers aboard, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire in mid-ocean, during a violent storm on October 3rd.

The crew fought the flames valiantly al day before they were enabled to get them under control and finally extinguish them.

Fight Over the Chiago Terminal Transfer Company.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The fight over the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad company has been settled out of court, and it is now certain hat the Baltimore and Ohio will control the property, with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, a tenant, if not a joint owner.

The facts became apparent Wednesday when the annual meeting of the Terminal company was postponed until January 13. The settlement of the fight over the terminal property by the evidenced by the acceptance by the minority interest of the offer of $25 a share for their preferred stock.

The Morgan-Hill interest held proxies for abont 74,830 shares of preferred and 79,132 shares of common stock. It is understood that under the reorganization plan the common stock of the Terminal company, $13,000,000, will be wiped out.

Skiff Caught Fire and Was Overturned—Three Others Saved.

Keyport, N. J., Oct. 11.—Four young men, all residents of Perth Amboy, were drowned in Raritan bay Wednesday night They were members of a party of seven who left Perth Amboy, in a surf skiff to visit Keyport.

The boat caught fire and the occupants, being unable otherwise to put out the flames, overturned the skiff. Subsequently four perished, three of them being saved in an exhausted condition by passing steamers after having clung to the overturned boat for more than two hours. The drowned are Harry Baxter, Edward Olsen, Floyd McHose, Charles Wicksburg.

Is Shot While Saying Goodnight.

Chattanooga, Oct 10.—A special from Rockwood, Tenn., says that Walter Grammar, a prominent young man of that community, either committed suicide or war murdered at the gate of his sweetheart near that city. His sweetheart, Miss Belle McMillin, went to the gate with Grammar and one theory is that she refused to marry him, whereupon he shot himself in the breast. Another theory is that he was shot by some one else, for before he died he asked several times "Who did it?" An investigation of the case is being made.

Fair Will Be a IBg One.

Dalton, Ga., Oct. 11.—The Whitfield county fair, which opens in Dalton a week from Wednesday, continuing from Oct. 15 to 21, promises to surpass any fair ever held in this section. A number of exhibitors are already placing their exhibits in position, besides a number of the amusement features are already here. This is the sixth event of the Whitfield county fair, it being the first to organize in North Georgia, and it will

DR. WILMER HISSED.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11.—Rev. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St Luke's Episcopal church of Atlanta, Ga., was roundly hissed by the southern delegates to the Episcopal convention for the defense he made of the bishop of Michigan and the latter's advocacy of the appointment of negro bishops. Dr. Wilmer spoke in the house of deputies. The diocese of Pennsylvania first brought the matter up.

The question of negro bishops was not settled and will probably be resumed. The negro question is a burning one in the convention, as was shown by the reception given Dr. Wilmer's remarks.

The house of bishops voted down the motion of the bishop of Albany making still more stringent canons on marriage and divorce. It was decided, after considerable discussionn to make no further changes along this line.

Much of the time in the house of deputies was taken up with a discussion on the preamble of Dr. Huntington, of New York, which was approved by the committee on canons. Among several amendments was one which substituted "the word of God" for the words offered by Dr. Huntington—"the record of God's revelation of Himself in his Son."

This amendment was offered by Rev. Dr. Shayler of Chicago, and it finally carried. Later on still another amendment was adopted which resulted in both expressions being used.

SIGN OF CROSS DEATH SIGNAL.

Man Who Made It Shot Down for Some Mysterious Cause.

New York, Oct. 11—John Flangino, Manhattan borouga, died Tuesday night in the Seney hospital, in Brooklyn, from a bullet received during a quarrel with Francisco Messino, 36 years of age. He was arrested by a policeman, who saw the shooting.

The bluecoat saw Flangino standing in front of No. 99, when Messino approached him. The two whispered a momement and then Flangino blessed himself.

As he finished the sign of the cross, Messino pulled a revolver and fired a shot, the bullet entering the left portion of the chest.

Messino refuses to say why he shot Flangino.

Money for Alabama Schools.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 11.—In a statement of the money to be given the schools by the state, Superintendent of Education H. C. Gunnels itemizes the amounts, showing the number of children by counties and the amounts to each normal school. The total amount for the schools is $1,534,507.87. Normal schools get $74,500, divided as follows: Florence, Jacksonville, Livingston and Troy, $115,000 cash; Montgomery, $7,500; Normal, $4,000; Tuskegee, $3,000. The contingent fund gets $1,000 and $800 goes to Winston county by a special act. The enumeration is 702,834 for the state, which gives a per capita for school purposes of $2.07, as compared to $1.56 last year.

Will Ship Chinese Crews.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 11.—Nearly all vessels in the Central American fruit trade will, it is said, in the next few weeks replace their Norwegian crews with Chinese. About eight per cent of these steamers are chartered from Norwegian owners, who, it is said, have concluded that owing to the unsatisfactory labor of their countrymen, their unreliability, intemperate habits and the increasing number of desertions, partly on account of interference of boarding house runners, they will no longer employ them. Each ship will sign probably 35 men, bringing the total number of Celestials to 1,050.

Smith Bound Over.

West Point, Ga., Oct. 11—The trial of Simean Smith for killing Will F. Pilkington last Friday, was held before Judge Laird Thursday morning. After hearing the evidence and the speeches by the lawyers, Smith was bound over to the superior court in

PREVENTED ROBBERY

Aged Watchman's Faithful Performance of Duty.

ALMOST BEATEN TO DEATH

Had It Not Been For the Fidelity of Richard Gray, Century Building in New York Would Have Been Looted of Untold Thousands.

New York, Oct. 11.—An aged watchman's faithful performance of duty even when death was threatened, prevented a robbery early Thursday which, if it had been successful, those familiar with the case say, would have caused a sensation as great as that which followed the looting of the Manhattan bank many years ago.

Richard G. Gray, watchman of the lofty Century building at 74 Broadway, near the center of the financial district, was the hero. He is now in the hospital suffering from wounds which he received in a desperate single-handed fight against two robbers who attacked him while he was making his rounds on the nineteenth floor of the building after midnight.

Although 60 years old, Gray made a most determined fight against his assailants and it was not until he had been battered until almost unconsciousness that he was overcome. Even then he refused to reveal to the robbers the hiding place of the keys to the hundreds of coffers in the great building.

In their desperation the robbers chloroformed the old man as he lay bleeding on the floor and then began a systematic search of the lower portion of the building for the missing keys. Apparently they were unsuccessful in their search, for when Gray revived and staggered down the nineteen flights of stairs to the basement, the men had disappeared.

A detective who had a talk with Watchman Gray is of the opinion that a clerk a long time employed in the buildnig was the instigator of the attempted robbery, and that his companion was an expert bank thief.

"If these men had gotten the keys from the watchman," said the detective, "they would have done a job that would have made the Manhattan bank robbery look like a cheap affair. They were after one safe in the building and that was all they wanted. They knew that the securities in that safe were worth untold thousands and they also knew that to attempt to force the door would ring burglar alarms and that in an instant the building would be surrounded by police."

As a result of the attempted robbery scores of extra detectives and additional police were on guard in the financial district Thursday, but no trace of the men could be found.

HAD MONEY, BUT PILFERED.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—In a remarkable confession to the police Mrs. Charles J. Romadka, of Milwaukee, wife of a millionaire manufacturer, admitted that she was responsible for a series of burglaries and petty thefts that have baffler the authorities for weeks.

Mrs. Romadka's confession was the latest development following her arrest for a robbery committed at the home of C. E. Beck, when jewelry valued at $1,000 was stolen. She implicated in her peculations a negro, Albert Jones, and a man known as "Ralph Smith." The former is under arrest and the police are searching for the latter.

Files Suit for $20,000 Damages.

Atlanta, Oct. 11.—In the superior court, W. A. Carroll filed a suit for $20,000 damages against Joseph D. Rhodes, whom, he avers, injured him in this sum when his automobile ran him down on July 3 near Durand's, on Pryor and Wall streets, and injured him permanently. The car was in charge of Tony Cates, Mr. Rhodes

SAW GIRL SUICIDE; KEPT SILENT

Iola, Kans., Oct. 11.—The mystery of the death of Miss May Sapp, of Moran, apparently was cleared up when Samuel F. Whitlow, a married merchant of Moran, made a statement in the presence of county officials. He said that for more than two years the girl had made life a burden to him. He went to the Sapp home a week ago Friday night to urge her to cease her unwelcome attentions, and he says she made threats of suicide, which she had repeatedly made before, unless he agreed to go away with her.

"The next thing I knew," he said, "she made a slash with the razor toward her throat. I thought she was trying to scare me. She made a second slash and then screamed. She made a third cut across her throat and then staggered back against the fence. I grabbed the razor. I heard her mother scream and I ran straight to my home. I washed the razor off in a bucket of water and slipped it into my pocket. Then I walked to the Sapp residence. I pushed up with the crowd and dropped the razor on the ground."

Whitlow told the officers that he and the girl had never been guilty of any impropriety. May Sapps' name was connected with his years ago, when she was a pupil in a county school near Boston.

GEORGIA STATE FAIR.

Gates Thrown Open to the Public on Thursday Morning.

Atlanta, Oct. 11.—Thursday morning the gates of the Georgia State Fair at Piedmont Park were thrown open to the public.

Thousands who have been awaiting with interest and impatience for this event were ushered into a series of agricultural, mechanical, poultry, live stock and amusement exhibits which surpassed any other effort ever made along similar direction by the Georgia and Atlanta fair associations.

This promises to be one of the most successful and interesting exhibitions ever held in the state.

Search for Lost Woman.

New York, Oct. 11.—The woods near Greenwich, Conn., are being searched by numerous persons for Miss Louise Palmer, of New York, who disappeared in her night robe from her summer home not far from Greenwich. Miss Palmer, who is 43 years old and whose mind is unbalanced, escaped from the house at night while her watchers were asleep. A reward of $600 for finding her has been offered by the family. It is hardly expected that Miss Palmer is alive, although a strip torn from her night dress has been found in a barn.

To Sell Prize Winners.

New York, Oct. 11.—Mrs. John Gerken, one of the most successful woman exhibitors of horses in this country and the owner of Gerkendale farm, at Gravesend, has decided to sell her stable of prize winners. The sale will not take place until after the horse show in Madison Square Garden in November. Mrs. Gerkin's reason for disposing of her stable is that she expects to make a long trip to Europe.

Had Narrow Escape.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 11.—M. Ratanayahi, acting Siamese minister at Washington, M. Chaun, an attache of the legation, had a narrow escape from death off Little Good Harbor beach Tuesday. They were out in a small boat, which was upset in the storm, but clung to the keel of their boat for half an hour when they were rescued by Roscoe Parsons and Herman Rowe, two men from Gloucester.

Farmers' Union Holds Meeting.

Atlanta, Oct. 11.—On Wednesday afternoon the Farmers' union held an executive session and adapted resolutions presented by President C. S. Barrett, indorsing the reforms set forth in the resolution presented to the cotton congress on the subject of gambling in cotton exchanges. These

APPROVED EGYPTIAN BALE

Compression at Gin, Careful Seed Selection, Closer Trade Relations and Holding Cotton 30 Days Before Ginning Recommended.

Atlanta, Oct. 11.—The elimination of the purely speculative side of the cotton exchange business is advocated by the International Cotton Congress, which adjourned Wednesday night.

By the vote of four to one, the task of evolving some plan for regulation that would prevent gambling was referred to the committee on permanent organization. One vote was cast by each of the five organizations represented at the congress.

The convention moved to take this step because it was urged very earnestly by the delegates from various organizations that nothing short of unanimous approval of all measures by all the associations of cotton growers and cotton manufacturers would produce effective results.

Condemnation of gambling methods was heard on all sides, but the spinners made it clear that exchanges of some kind were necessary to their business and that ,despite the evils in existing exchanges, these institutions must be resorted to until some better method of protection against loss from future fluctuations could be devised.

It is pointed out that the men selected from each of the five organizations, by taking counsel among themselves and considering the interests of all sides, might be able to reach some conclusion that would be approved next year by the whole congress.

The congress unanimously appro the square bale of th esame style packing and covering as the Egyptian bale.

They recommended that southern farmers hold their cotton for thirty days before having it ginned, that the staple might fully mature.

They urged more careful seed selection.

They endorsed the buying of spot cotton for future delivery.

The congress killed the resolution providing for more frequent statistics on crop reports from the government.

They earnestly advocated closer trade relations, looking forward to the time when farmers' organizations, through their agents, will be able to deal directly with the spinners.

RAIDED ROOM OF THE DEAD.

Robbers Ransack House in Which the Corpse of Woman Was.

New York, Oct. 11—Burglars entered early Wednesday three residences at Westfield, N. J., and in one case ransacked a room in which the wife of the owner was lying dead.

One of the houses entered was that of W. H. Siebert.

Mrs. Seibert had died the night before, and the members of the household, worn out with watching during her illness, had retired. The robbers made a thorough search through several rooms, including the one in which the dead woman lay. They secured about $250 worth of silverware and $50 in cash.

Police Arrested Revolutionist.

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 11.—The police have arrested a revolutionist named Kruglikoff, who is accused of having been an important accomplice of Boris Nikitenko, a retired naval lieutenant, in the plot against the life of Emperor Nicholas, for which Nikitenki was executed September 3.

DR. BARRY SAYS HE'S NOT GUILTY

Was Arrested Because He Held a U. S. Government License.

IS REQUIRED OF A DRUGGIST

Who Desires to Carry a Full Line of Everything in the Druggists' Line, as Laid Down by a Recent Enactment of a United States Law.

Among those who spent Thursday in this city was Dr. N. J. Barry, the druggist and merchant of Newberry, and one of the oldest and most widely known business men of the West End.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago Dr. Barry had a warrant served upon him, charging him with selling liquors in a dry county contrary to law. He was brought to this city, waived examination and gave bond readily for his appearance before the grand jury at the next session of the circuit court, which will be held in November.

Dr. Barry states that this action towards him was a great injustice, which he proposes to prove at the proper time. He states that, as a druggist, the recent law enacted by the United States Government requires license for the handling and sale of certain drugs, and that he had secured this license in compliance with the law governing same. He further states that the warrant was served on purely technical terms, the officer taking possession of the Government license as prima facia evidence that he might be selling whiskey, when there was no grounds other than the Government license to substantiate his claim.

"I am coming out of this thing," said Dr. Barry, "and when I do there will be something else doing. I am a druggist, am required by the National law to secure a license before I can handle or dispose of certain drugs, and merely upon this flimsy excuse the authorities had no right to touch me. I have been in Newberry endeavoring to make an honest and legitimate living for years, and I flatter myself to say that reputable citizens of that town will testify that I am a law-abiding man."

MR. LYNCH IS HOME.

Has Made Official Tour, Visiting One Lodge and Installing One.

Postmaster Louis C. Lynch, who is also grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Florida, has attended two very interesting functions of that order in the State during the present week, at both of which he received every courtesy, and which he very much enjoyed.

The first meeting was a district convention of the Fourth District, which was held at Jasper. The meeting had been well advertised, the announcement that the grand chancellor would be present being made, with the result that every lodge in that district was well represented.

There was work in all degrees, two candidates having presented themselves for initiation, and the work was exemplified in a most creditable manner. Mr. Lynch compliments Jasper lodge very highly upon the efficiency of its working team.

From Jasper Grand Chancellor Lynch proceeded to Jacksonville, where, on Wednesday night at South Jacksonville, he installed Dixie Lodge No. 102, K of P. He was assisted by G. W. Thames, district deputy grand chancellor, and W. C. West, who had charge of the team work.

Mr. Lynch stated that he was royally entertained in both Jasper and Jacksonville. At the latter place the team did not finish the work until 4 o'clock Thursday morning, the lodge at the beginning enrolling about one hundred members.

Interesting Meeting.

Gainesville Lodge, F. & A. M., held an unusually interesting meeting Wednesday night, when Lee Graham, the popular assistant cashier of the First National Bank, had the third or Master Mason's degree conferred upon him. Lee is a good fellow and quite popular, with the result that an unusual large attendance was present to "assist" him through his troubles. The night passed off very entertainingly for those present, many of whom congratulated Lee that he was able to be at work the following morning.

THE LATEST GOSSIP From GAY NEW YORK

BY OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, OCTOBER 11. - In the New Plaza Hotel, which cost $3,500,000 to put up, the following prices are paid by the year for apartments: John W. Gates, $35,000; Mrs. James Henry (Silent) Smith, $30,000; A. G. Vanderbilt, $30,000; Geo. G. Gould, $25,000; John A. Drake, $25,000; Mrs. Oliver Harriman, $16,000; R. E. Reiss, $16,000; Mrs. H. D. Lyman, $18,000; C. K. G. Billings, $18,000, and Julius Fleischmann, $18,000. That's going some, isn't it? Well, rather, even in New York. But don't formulate an idea that it is "society" that is paying these prices. Society doesn't live on the basis of seeing how much it can pay for things. That is the fad of the parvenu only. Society—the real thing—live quietly in their own homes, and patronize hotels as little as possible. But New York has in this New Plaza a "splurging spot" far superior to any it has ever had; and what they'll do up there in the way of melting money will be good and plenty. Will it pay? Of course it will. Every hotel in New York pays if it's run with any sagacity at all. The remarkable part of it is that most of those whose names I've put down above have elegant homes of their own here which they either close up or sell to live in rented quarters.

Mrs. Sage Exiles Herself.

Mrs. Russel Sage has actually been driven to leave New York. People made life intolerable begging for money or advising her how to bestow her charities. She is going to dispose of her handsome home on Fifth avenue, opposite St. Patrick's Cathedral, and occupy an old-fashioned country home she has bought at Sag Harbor, Long Island. Money has actually become a curse to Mrs. Sage. I understand her mail amounts to bags full daily; and if she didn't disconnect the door bell it would be ringing incessantly from morning until bedtime. People will give her no peace; and she's old and peace is what she most needs. So she has finally resolved not to try to stand the annoyance longer, but to exile herself down in quiet old Sag Harbor. This is just an example of riding a willing horse to death. Now, if Mrs. Sage had Mrs. Hetty Green's disposition nobody would bother her. Hetty Green's door bell isn't ringing much, nor her mail isn't very big, and yet she has a little money, so to speak. But she gives nothing; and she lets that be known and folks let her alone. Nobody disturbs Mrs. Green's quiet importuning her for money. If they did she'd give them a stare so stony they'd never repeat the venture.

Corey Didn't Marry Whole Family.

Corey, the steel man, who married Mateele Gilman after he had divorced his first wife, does not feel, apparently, that he married the whole Gilman family, for he has refused his wife's father permission to see her. The expressions that I hear are that he had much better have allowed Mr. Gilman to see his daughter than to have riled him so he would make so much public outcry as to centre public thought upon Miss Gillman's humble origin, and thus impede whatever social aspirations the latter Mrs. Corey may have. A few, however, think Corey did just right to nip in the bud any tendency to familiarity on the part of Pere Gilman, especially as Corey is a rich man and Gil-

Others feel that Gilman Corey an amount of undesirable advertising he'll be glad to be discontinued; and there are those who go so far as to intimate that Corey may be be willing to do so on certain terms, and that Gilman has been advised to pursue just the course he has. One night last week Gilman called at Corey's Fifth avenue home, and Corey had something of a scene as to a father's seeing his daughter. The latest is that Gilman is forcing his right as a parent; but Corey's rights as husband undoubtedly have precedence. Incidentally, it may be stated that Gilman is trying to get the name of his ness; and a certain amount of sensation would doubtless enhance their stage value.

Financing Cuban Revolutions.

It seems to be pretty correct that this last as well as previous uprising in Cuba have been financed in New York. Why? Well, primarily to try and force the Government to openly declare itself relative to annexation of the island, so that American capital can go in there and invest heavily with safety. That is the real reason, whatever other reasons you may hear given. I have that from sources right at the throne. There is a good deal of American capital invested in Cuba now; and it isn't altogether safe when revolutions occur; and investors don't like uprisings; for they disturb business conditions. Moreover, the better element of Cubans want annexation; in fact, count upon it. So the revolts are helped along in a small pecuniary way to try and create a definite sentiment in favor of annexation that will bring forth some action by our government; the outlay being looked upon as a rather novel method of lobbying; but expected to be effective nevertheless. I am also informed, however, that our Government positively will take no decided stand regarding Cuban matters until after the next election. It don't cost but a few dollars to launch a "number-one" revolt that will do thousands of dollars' worth of damage, and the bigger the damage the quicker, it is believed, will our Government intervene by formally adopting the Cubans and thus lift all tariff and a lifted tariff is what is most wanted. American capital hankers for the open door with all duties removed. Then you'll see such an emigration from the United States to New Eldorado as will make California's gold days look like an imitation adventure.

Pan-Flashes.

An eminent New Rochelle physician, a Dr. Bolin, has been accused of being a Jekyll and Hyde—that is, a doctor by day and a burglar by night—on which account New Rochelle (a swell New York suburb) bears off the palm of versatile citizens.

After the lawn tennis game at the White House the other day, between the President and the Lord Bishop of London, the President is reported to have enjoined silence upon all hands as to the game, whereas some are wondering why, if the President were victorious, such silence should be insisted upon?

A report which will not down easily has it that Mrs. Richard Mansfield purposes returning to the stage; and the inference is drawn that Mansfield's estate hardly panned out as bulky as was at first reported.

Mr. Cleveland has quite regained his health, but it is said to have broken much in his last spell of illness, and in Princeton the doubt is expressed if he ever attempts to give any attention to business engagements.

Presidential boom factories are working overtime. But the busiest industry heard of recently is the anti-Fairbanks Methodist convention, which knocked Charles W.'s boom into a cocked hat by frowning upon the cherry as a species of beverage.

Who knows but it might be Beveridge of Indiana for the Republican nomination? Beveridge is the party of whom James Whitcomb Riley said: "He is the only man I ever knew who can set his mouth a-going and then go off and leave it."

New York feels now that Platt has said, "Keep your eye on Root for the nomination," that the Secretary of State's chances aren't worth much.

Now that Joe Gans, the negro pugilist, has whipped the world in his class, his friends fear that he'll come to New York and open a saloon, as most pugilists do to put a finishing touch to their careers. I guess not. Joe has been sending the "bacon" home to his black "mudder" in Baltimore; and she has soaked it away where Joey'll not get a hand on it; shrewd woman that she is.

It appears as if nothing progressive can be done in New York without some graft scandal clinging to it. The under-the-river tunnels absolutely reek with suspected rake-off to somebody.

New York "afternoons" have settled down to bridge whist in dead earnest; and worried loser's troubles have begun.

BOWDEN IS IMPROVING.

Colored Man Thrown from Horse Wednesday Getting Along Nicely.

Thomas Bowden, the colored man who is in the employ of W. R. Thomas & Co. liverymen, and who was thrown from a horse Wednesday, sustaining a dislocated arm and fractured skull, is getting along as nicely as could be expected, so report goes.

It appears that Bowden, who is regarded as a good horseman, was riding one of the horses recently received at the stables from the West, and that the animal suddenly shied and threw him against a curbing, causing the injury.

As soon as the accident was discovered Dr. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., was summoned, and rendered valuable professional aid which probably saved the man's life.

Bowden will be out in a few days, if he continues to improve as rapidly as his condition now indicates.

Attention, Stonewall Camp!

LIEUT. BALL ORGANIZES TOWN BOYS

TEAM HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

Starts Out With Sixteen Active Young Men, and More Will Join—Enthusiastic Meeting Was Held Thursday, When Organization Was Completed.

An enthusiastic meeting of those interested in the organization of a football team was held at the quarters of Lieutenant Ball, in the new Graham building, Thursday evening, which was well attended, and at which a great deal of interest was manifested. The result was that the Gainesville Football Team was organized, about sixteen strong, and those who constitute the team are determined to get down to business right away.

The game in general was discussed, and it was decided to extend a cordial invitation to all active young men to join the team, which already promises to be one of the fastest amateur teams in the country. Lieutenant Ball has the material, and is determined to show our people something in football during the coming season.

This team will have the advantage of being personally coached by Lieutenant Ball, who is one of the most thoroughly posted men on football in the South. Lieutenant Ball's brother-in-law, Captain Henry C. Smithers, of the Fifteenth U. S. Cavalry, is the coach of the West Point Military Academy football team, which will give the Lieutenant the advantage of many new and up-to-date points, as he will keep in constant communication with Captain Smithers.

The University will also have a fast team, as the members of the University team are already in good trim. They have somewhat of an advantage over the town boys, by reason of the fact that their practice is part of the daily routine of duty. However, the town boys declare that they will at least make matters interesting for the college boys.

The next meeting of the town boys will be held Monday evening on the old East Florida Seminary campus, when everyone interested is requested to be present. There will be some drilling.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

MIDNIGHT WEDDING AT WALDO.

Waldo, Oct. 11.—A romantic marriage was celebrated on last Friday night under very peculiar circumstances. E. H. Godwin went to Highland after his girl, Miss Willie Grand of that place, and returned on the 11:30 train that night, and by previous arrangement Rev. D. L. Branning met them at the depot, as did also some of the family and friends.

In the meantime it had leaked out that a runaway couple were to be married at the depot that night, and a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Prewitt adjourned en masse to surprise the bride and groom with their presence, and so, amid great hilarity, they were welcomed as they left the train, and with lanterns and railroad torches lighting up the scene under a spreading oak at the station, some twenty-five persons witnessed this midnight marriage ceremony, which was pronounced by an elderly lady to be the prettiest she had ever seen. And then came the announcement by the officiating minister that the home of the Godwin family, a mile out of town, of which the groom was the eldest son, had just been destroyed by fire while the family were over at a neighbor's where a reception was tendered them. Thus joy and sorrow came to them at one time—a fire and a wedding.

The bride and groom went to the Waldo House.

Mr. Dow Improving.

A letter received from Mrs. W. E. Dow, Greenwood, S. C., bears information that Mr. Dow is getting along finely, and that he had recently taken a "little trip" of seventy-five miles unaided. This will be gratifying information to his friends in Gainesville and other sections of the State.

"This is a fine country," continues Mrs. Dow, "and we have all so much enjoyed our stay here, and have all been benefited; we expect to turn our faces homeward some time this month, however, and while we have enjoyed it here, we will nevertheless be glad to get back home."

Baraca.

F. J. Dayton of Jacksonville, State secretary of Baraca, will teach the Sunday school lesson at the Baraca Class of the First M. E. church, on Sunday morning. The class meets at [illegible] and all young men over sixteen years of age are invited to attend. The class has more than doubled in attendance in a few weeks.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle

Woman Elected Director.

New York, Oct. 11.—Two new directors have been elected by the Remington Typewriter company. One of them, Miss Mary E. Orr, entered the employ of the company nineteen years ago as a stenographer. This is said to be the first instance in which a corporation has elected a woman to so high a place. It is not only a recognition of the long and faithful service of Miss Orr, but also in the part played by women in the development of the typewriter business.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.

Press Bulletin No. 67, just issued by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, entitled "Saving, Storing and Testing Seeds," by John Belling, is of special interest to farmers, and is given space in The Sun for their benefit, as follows:

"The peculiar soil and climate of Florida, which are not paralleled in the other States, require special selections of seeds adapted to them. Experience has shown that the same care and intelligence applied to the saving of seed on the spot where it is to be sown will give better results than if the seed is selected at a location several hundred miles away. Hence in the case of many of those plants which seed well in Florida, the growers of this State may often save many dollars by properly saving their own seed. This end will not be attained by saving seed from a few specially large or well-flavored fruits scattered here and there. On the contrary, the seed should be saved from all the fruits of the few best-yielding plants in the field. Seeds saved from the best individual fruits without taking into account the number of fruits on each plant, produce seedlings which may bear some fruits, but which do not bear heavily. The whole field should be examined, and those plants which, while growing apparently under the same conditions as the rest of the field, bear extra large quantities of fruit, above the average in size and flavor, should be marked, and their fruit kept for seed. This is the way in which the great improvements which have been made of late years in the tomato have been brought about. For this reason the selected cotton of the Sea Islands near Charleston fetches higher prices than the long-staple cotton of the mainland.

But the selected seeds must be properly dried and stored, so that if possible every seed shall germinate; and not only germinate, but germinate well and produce an extra healthy seedling. The fully ripe seeds should be removed from the fruit, cleansed and carefully dried, avoiding too great heat; that is, above blood temperature. So the seeds should not be exposed to the sun's rays, but dried in the shade. There are two conditions which acting together are fatal to the keeping of seeds, and allowed to act will quickly destroy the vitality. These are heat and moisture. In Northern climates seeds may be put slightly damp during the winter, but the cold prevents ill effects. In dry climates, like that of Florida, seeds may get quite warm, but the dryness of the air obviates any danger. But in the Gulf States, in which more or less in North Florida the seeds may be exposed for a time to a warm moist atmosphere, experiments have shown that they will keep nearly so well as in those Northern regions where the summer is not but dry, and the early autumn and late fall, if occasionally warm, yet cool. It has also been found that well-dried seeds kept in paper will keep remarkably well. But the most practical way is to save valuable or selected seeds, immediately after drying, into fruit jars which can be closed air-tight; or if in large quantities, into cans which can be made air-tight by running melted paraffin or rosin round the edge of the lid. To keep the air in the can or bottle quite dry, a large lump of good quicklime should be wrapped up in paper, or other covering, so as not to come into contact with the seeds, and put in the jar or can. In this way the writer has kept seeds for three years in a hot and damp tropical climate, where the deterioration of many seeds (if not large or oily) was a matter often of days or weeks.

"If seeds have not been well stored, many of them are dead, and others are so injured that they will never make perfectly healthy plants. The first of these defects can be remedied by sowing more of the seed, but the second is more difficult to obviate, and is doubtless often one cause of extensive losses from disease. The best way is to sow only healthy seeds. To know healthy seeds, there is only one practical method, that is to find how many will germinate. The germination may be hastened by soaking the seeds for 6 to 12 hours in clear water. If left for a day in water, they will usually begin to rot. Some fairly large seeds (such as those of some legumes) germinate quicker if a small piece of the seed-coat is cut or filed off, which should be done on the side opposite to the scar of attachment. One hundred seeds are then put between two folds of clean, damp flannel between two dinner plates. (There should be no water in the lower plate, or the seeds may be drowned.) The numbers that germinate in a week or so should be counted. Some seeds, such as celery, germinate better if sown in well-drained shallow boxes of sand."

There never yet lived a man, dull or brilliant, a failure or a success, who did not appreciate the flattery of having a girl with him who is giving the crowd the impression that she is having a tip-top time. It somehow says to the world that your partner is most attractive; that you couldn't be dull when you are with him! Men, young and old, are childlike in wanting to be appreciated, says The Delineator for October. But, you may say to this, "I don't want these men to think I care for them. They are conceited enough as it is." Learn this social lesson in answer to that objection: It is only when you single out one man to be cordial and nice to, that you run the risk of his thinking that you care for him. When you are nice to all your friends alike, believe me, no man is such a goose that he will take your cordiality to him as meaning anything significant. If he does presume, teach him a smart little lesson in humanity, but don't make an enemy of him.

The property owners on East Liberty street and Alachua avenue appreciate the action of the City Council in relieving them of the assessment for the construction of the walls and railing over Sweetwater branch. The council has never authorized by ordinance the assessment of this expense against the property owners along this highway, and the Board of Public Works could never have collected the same in a suit in equity. Not one of the property owners against whom the Board of Public Works levied the assessment ever intended to pay a cent of it, and the council acted wisely in passing the resolution relieving them of such payment.

SPEAKER MATTHEWS.

Bradford county never had a more capable, conscientious and faithful representative in the Florida Legislature than Eugene Matthews, editor of The Starke Telegraph and speaker of the last House of Representatives. It is customary to reward merit with promotion, hence it was no surprise to his friends throughout the State to hear him favorably spoken of by many of his constituents in connection with the Senatorship from Bradford county, but he prefers to serve his people in the House, and in the last issue of The Telegraph, in a card to the people of Bradford county, says:

"Shortly after the adjournment of the last session of the Legislature several newspapers in the State, in a friendly spirit, mentioned me as a probable candidate for the State Senate to succeed Senator Crews. These kindly notices were reproduced in The Telegraph without comment and seem to have been construed by some of my friends in the county as meaning that I would in fact be a candidate for the Senate. Until now I have refrained from making any public statement regarding the matter, but have said to friends who have talked with me about it that at present I would prefer service in the House of Representatives, if the citizens of the county wished to return me to the Legislature. The statement of my own feeling in the matter heretofore made to friends in private conversation I now make to you in this public manner.

"If I can be of service at all to you as a member of the Legislature, the service can be best rendered in the House of Representatives."

The people of Bradford county will no doubt return 'Gene Matthews to the House of Representatives as long as he desired to serve them in that capacity, and if he should express a desire to "go up higher" his wish should be gratified.

The editor of The Sun is proud of the fact that 'Gene was an apprentice under him, and he is always spoken of by our better-half as "our boy." Not every boy of the limited advantages he had in early youth has made the mark he has at his present age—and there are higher honors in store for him.

ACCIDENT AT TIOGA.

Dummy Engine Runs Into Cars—Engineer Injured by Jumping.

Tioga, Oct. 11.—There was a wreck Wednesday morning on the Cummer railroad spur between the camp and Komoko, where the Union Phosphate Company's spur crosses Cummer's spur. Engine No. 1, run by N. E. Andrews, was making its usual daily trip to the junction with ten loads of logs, and when it neared the crossing the dummy engineer, who was a negro, was going to the plant with a few loads of rock and tried to dash by ahead of engine No. 1, which had the right to the crossing. The dummy crossed and the engineer ran into two of the phosphate cars, completely demolishing them, and tearing up some parts of the enigine, but she was not disabled.

Mr. Andrews jumped from the engine after it had ran through the cars, and not having time to pick a place he had to jump into some cross ties, splitting his lip at the right corner of his mouth, causing a gash an inch long; and received a bruise on the forehead and under the chin, none of which are serious. A negro woman on the engine was wounded in jumping, but not seriously. None of the occupants were injured at all, but had the engine struck the dummy there would have been some serious trouble.

H. M. Andrews left today for Jacksonville, where he goes to have his eyes treated. He will probably go to Atlanta, Ga., before he returns, to have them examined and treated by Dr. Calhoun.

Miss Bertha Terry of Ft. White arrived Monday and opened school Tuesday at this place, enrolling eighteen pupils. Miss Terry is a charming young lady and her qualities as a teacher are unsurpassed. She was assistant teacher in the graded and high school at Ft. White last term.

Mrs. E. Ludwig, who has been very sick, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Williams of McClenny is here visiting her grand-daughter, Mrs. N. E. Andrews.

Lest We Forget

Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful, the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

It is the earnest desire of the management of The Sun to render the best possible service to advertisers, and in this connection we wish to impress upon them the importance of handing in their copy early. Our ad man is rushed on Saturdays, and advertisers who hand in changes later than 1 o'clock p. m. need not be disappointed if they fail to see the change made in Sunday's paper. The earlier you hand in copy the better display you will get. Do not wait until Saturday to write your copy. Friday is usually a dull day with us and at such time you should prepare your copy for Sunday's paper. Advertising copy furnished on Friday would make a much better appearance in Sunday's Sun than that sent in on early Saturday morning. Get busy during your leisure and thus help yourself as well as the printer.
